

Café conversation

20th July 2017: 1300-1700

@LVSC c/o Voluntary Action Islington, Conference room,
200a Pentonville Road, N1 9JP

How can we connect Londoners so that they can have a greater influence over the future development of their city?

How can we connect Londoners so they can have great influence on the future development of their City?

At a time of crisis and division there is an urgent need for Londoners and their communities to have greater control over the issues that affect them. London Funders and City Hall are currently developing plans for systems to provide support - but grassroots organisations have criticised these as lacking engagement with citizens and communities.

This cafe provides a chance to meet people developing ideas for more bottom-up design including the use of digital technology and network building, and an opportunity for you to add your own ideas.

The story is developing here <http://www.connectinglondoners.blog>

<http://www.connectinglondoners.blog/2017/how-to-move-the-way-ahead-into-the-networked-age-by-connecting>

This event will be facilitated by David Gurteen

<http://knowledge.cafe/david-gurteen/>

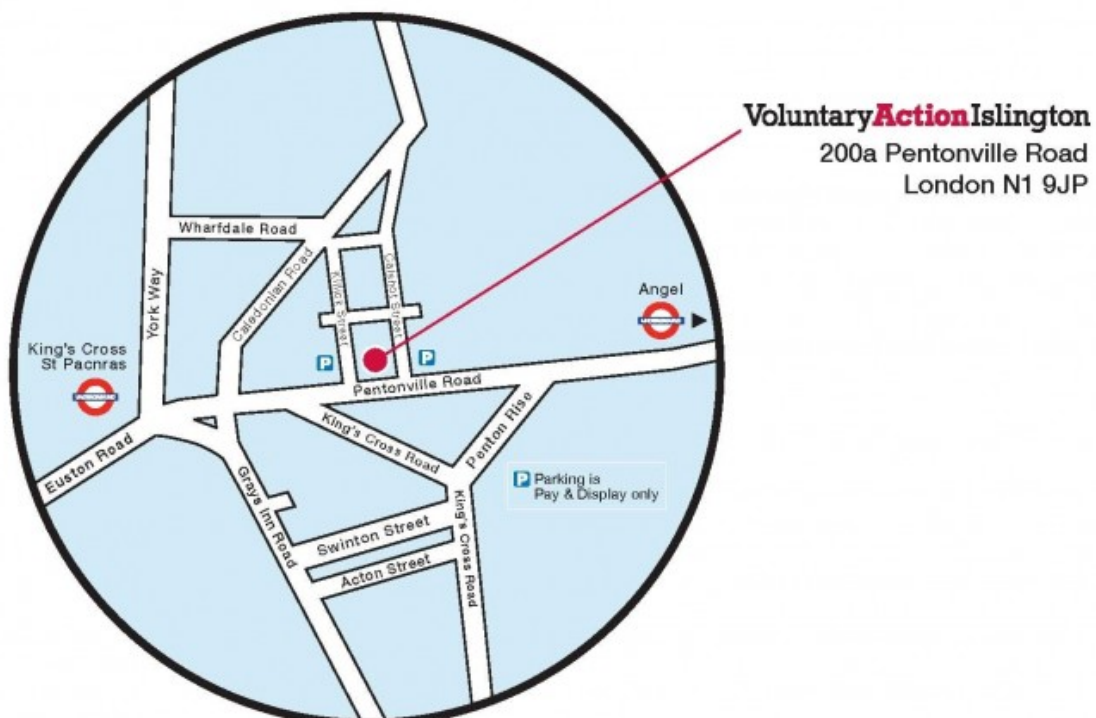

David Gurteen works in the fields of knowledge management, organizational learning and conversational leadership and has kindly offered to run a Knowledge Café for us on the question of how we can connect Londoners.

Venue is fully accessible

How to find us: Directions

<http://www.vai.org.uk/contact-us/how-to-find-us/>

The event is in the same building at Voluntary Action Islington (on the 2nd floor)

Nearest train station is Kings Cross (3-5 minutes walk)